FEDERALS SURRENDER AT BACA
AND ARE TAKEN AS PRISONERS INTO CHIHUAHUA.

PARRAL ORDERED ATTACKED AT ONCE

(By Phil McLaughlin.)
Chihuahua, Mex., March 19.—The information that the town of Chihuahua in this state has fallen in line with the liberal cause has been communicated to Gen. Orozco by Col. T. Arreola, who entered the town yesterday with about 40 men and took possession, no resistance being offered with the taking of this place. Telegraphic communication to the state of Sonora will be resumed very shortly, it is said.
With the troops which left today for the front was a corps of nurses carrying all the necessities of their profession in the way of medicines and stretchers.
Gen. Orozco is in receipt of a telegram from the state of Sonora in which the latter reports the National railroad to be in entire repair from Jimenez as far south as Escalante. The telegram gives no details as to whether or not it will be repaired further than this point.
A train bearing the wounded and prisoners of the battle of Santa Rosalia on Saturday has arrived here. Aboard the train were several foreigners and among them a doctor practicing at Santa Rosalia.

FEDERALS REPORTED ADVANCING NORTH.
(By Associated Press.)
Chihuahua, Mexico, March 19.—A railroad man who returned from a point 45 miles south of Jimenez, said that the federal forces are advancing and now are in possession of the country about Torreon as far north as Bermejo.

The rebels in the district are falling back on Salazar's base at Jimenez, he said.

Before the train left Santa Rosalia, Gen. Campa was at the station and, being apprised that a woman was to be one of the passengers, immediately ordered the conductors to take her to the train, which consisted of four box cars. The woman and her husband entered the caboose and rode to this city. The other foreigners rode in the box cars.

Prisoners From Baca.
The federal troops captured by the liberals reached this city at 6 o'clock this morning in a special train. There were 12 in all, including officers and men. Col. Castaneda received the prisoners at the railroad station in behalf of Gen. Orozco. They were taken to the hotel Francis where breakfast awaited them. The soldiers were marched to a short distance from the federal building, where they were given a hearty breakfast. In an interview with Maj. Ramirez, ranking officer of the federal, this morning, he gave a few details leading up to his surrender.

Major Tells of Fight.
"We were driven from our position at Baca station by the superior force of liberals, who poured a continuous fire into our ranks from the moment that they sighted us. We kept falling back until we found a position that would not expose us to the fire but at every step our position became worse until we were driven into a canyon. For 12 hours, we held our own from the top of the hill we were marching. There was nothing else to do then but surrender. We would have been annihilated otherwise. Of course I am sorry."

Prisoners May Join Rebels.
Gen. Orozco stated that all officers and men would be given their liberty in this city. Maj. Ramirez was asked if he would incorporate with the liberals. "I am not sure," he said, "but I am sure that as to what the men will do, I can not say. They are no longer under my control. They may join the liberals or they may not."

A noticeable feature in the appearance of Maj. Ramirez's uniform was the absence of his shoulder straps and side arms. They were gone. He thought that the removal of the straps himself as a token of surrender to an enemy. His arms, no doubt, were taken from him.

The personnel of the officers surrendering with Maj. Ramirez were the following: Alfonso Carrillo, Galindo, Jose Grana, do, Jacinto R. Rangel, Dionisio Saldaña and Margarito Blum, Neutro, Francisco Velasco and Antonio Sanchez.

Troops Came From Monterrey.
The command was made up of companies from the first, second and ninth regiments of the third military zone with headquarters in Monterrey. They left Monterrey for the front of February for Torreon, going later to Jimenez and afterwards Santa Rosalia, leaving that place for the front at Gen. Salazar's camp pushed forward from this city nearly two weeks ago.

Both officers and men say that they are being well treated.

Gen. Jose de la Luz Soto has asked for three days' time in which to decide as to whether he will ally himself with the liberal cause or remain staunch to the Madero government.

Gen. Soto is reported in Parral several days ago that not over half his men were loyal to Madero. If such should prove to be true, the liberals will experience no trouble in taking possession of the city.

Troops for Orozco.
Gen. Orozco has changed his plans somewhat and will send Gen. Antonio Bonas to Jimenez and Gen. Jose de la Cruz Sanchez, who is held.

MEXICO AGREES TO HAVE ALL
BATTLES IN THE INTERIOR HEREAFTER.

IS IN EXCHANGE FOR CLOSING JUAREZ PORT

United States officials here do not expect any more trouble along the border unless the rebels start to quarrel among themselves. The proclamation issued by president Taft prohibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition from the United States to Mexico for the rebel army was given in exchange for another promise from the Mexican federal government that no fighting would occur on the border between federal and rebels, the officials here said. It is believed to be the reason the bombardment of Juarez by federal artillery, which was planned by the Mexican army and for which federal artillery officers were sent to El Paso, was not carried out as originally planned. Instead the closing of the border to the exportation of arms from the United States practically accomplished the same purpose and shut off the rebel munition supply station.

Concentrating at Torreon.
Instead of trying to take Juarez with artillery, the federal government is concentrating its forces at Torreon and making an effort to stop Orozco's forces when they attack that city. This means that the zone of fighting will be moved south of the state of Chihuahua and traffic over the two railroads will be reopened on a regular schedule and business relations with the northern Mexican state resumed.

No Arms Passing Here.
No arms or ammunition are being decided at the El Paso custom house and no will be, the officials say as it is clearly understood by the Americans who are supervising the purchase of American goods that there is no use trying to export rifles and ammunition through this port in the usual channels.

The proclamation has not yet been received at the custom house and no additional instructions have been received regarding the matter. The officials here are now considered contraband. But the original advice to use every precaution in shipping such goods is being followed to the letter. The port is being watched by the port water guard and no further advice is needed here to prevent the rebels from getting their arms and ammunition across the bridge.

Much Smuggling Believed.
Smuggling is believed to be going on at the border although no arrests have been made. The custom officials have their mountain line riders and also watching the blockade runners. The custom officers and commanding officers of the border patrol are being taken across for the patrol is sufficiently strong now, they say, to stop any further smuggling. The only exception is an occasional gun runner who might be able to dodge the patrolling soldiers.

Neither the rangers nor the customs men have received any advice from Austin regarding the stationing of state guards and state rangers along the border. It is believed that the American side, Governor Colquhoun has said that he would order these two bodies of state peace officers to the border to prevent any further raids by the government were not stationed on the border. No more troops have yet been ordered to the border and the governor has taken no official action regarding the ordering of the rangers and militia.

The raid of the rebels on the island near Fabens was reported to the governor by sheriff P. J. Edwards, who asked for advice regarding the matter. He advised the sheriff that there was nothing to be done except make a claim for the property and present it to the Mexican government.

Federal Report Northern Advance.
A skirmish between the rebels and federal forces in the state of Coahuila, is reported by Mexican government officials in El Paso. This is the first time the federal forces and the rebels have met and the federal officials say that the federal forces drove the advance guard of rebels back to Jimenez.

The federal forces are reported to have used their armored train, containing machine guns, a mortar and a snail, and was run from Torreon to head off an advance guard from Salazar's command.

The federal forces were from Gen. Blanquet's command, which is now in Torreon and will be moving north to attack the rebels, the federal officials say, and will eventually push on to Juarez.

The movement now under way at Olinda by the federal is said to be a part of the general plan of campaign in the north. The Olinda force, now numbered 450, the federal officials say, and recruits are being added to this force each day. These men are being sent to the front of February by way of San Antonio as laborers and are sent across the line at Marfa.

There are three machine guns with the detachment and a piece of artillery was sent across Monday from Marfa for the federal command, the Mexican officials say. It is the general plan to have Gen. Blanquet move north from Torreon toward Chihuahua to prevent Orozco's column moving further south. The Olinda command, which will be recruited from Mexico by way of San Antonio and Marfa, will be sent against the rebels in the state of Durango as the objective point.

DO NOT LOOK FOR FIGHT AT PARRAL

American Refugees Say that Prices There Are Very High.

A number of refugees from Parral reached El Paso Monday night, having made that portion of the trip trying between Parral and Jimenez on a hand-car. They are deeply interested in the story telegraphed from Chihuahua that the rebels, after the victory over the handful of federal at Baca, had occupied that city. It was declared by a number of the refugees that there would be a fight at Parral. While Gen. Jose de la Luz Soto, in command of the federal garrison at Parral, is believed to be loyal to Madero, it is not believed that he could drive any number of his 165 men to resist the rebels should they appear before the town.

The people of Parral have been taxed

Only 600 Are Left in Border
City—Mail Matter Temporarily Held Up.

COL. OROZCO TO BE IN COMMAND

All soldiers not needed for the defense of Juarez have been ordered sent to Chihuahua to take part in the great demonstration to be made by the liberals in an advance on Torreon within the next few days.
They will entrain Wednesday. Gen. Rojas and Fernandez will accompany them, leaving Col. Pascual Jr. in command at Juarez as jefe superior. He will have 610 men as a garrison. It is said that Gen. Rojas and Fernandez are to be sent to Chihuahua to be added to Orozco's column.
Freight Trains Sent Out.
Two freight trains were sent south over the Central Tuesday, one made up of 17 carsloads of coal and coke for the Terrazas and Chihuahua smelters, and another consisting of 15 carsloads of merchandise and a special passenger coach for Santa Rosalia.

Mails Held Up.
All mails were held up from the North Western's southbound train Monday night, owing to the fact that there were no more clerks available to be sent out to handle the matter. A story was set afloat that the mail had been taken to military headquarters presumably to be searched. This was strenuously denied by Col. Ponce, who explained that when it was found that no clerks could be secured, it was deemed better to hold the mail in Juarez than to send it through to Chihuahua and possibly be again held up. The mail was held up by chief clerk David McKnight, of the U. S. railway mail service, in spite of the fact that the mail Monday night was held up. The American postoffice officials are instructed to obtain the receipt for the mail when delivered to the necessary record at once and the officials that the mail was only delayed because of lack of clerks to work it in transit.

To Deliver Mail Again.
Mexico mail will be delivered to the rebel officials in Juarez Tuesday evening by chief clerk David McKnight, of the U. S. railway mail service, in spite of the fact that the mail Monday night was held up. The American postoffice officials are instructed to obtain the receipt for the mail when delivered to the necessary record at once and the officials that the mail was only delayed because of lack of clerks to work it in transit.

Opening Federal Lines.
Col. Rafael B. Gutierrez is busy with a force of men getting the federal telegraph lines in the state of Coahuila and hopes to be ready to handle commercial business by Wednesday. He said that he will be ready to handle the lines by Wednesday. He said that he will be ready to handle the lines by Wednesday. He said that he will be ready to handle the lines by Wednesday.

Trains Operate to Jimenez.
The National line has been opened to Jimenez and the daily passenger service between Juarez and Jimenez has been extended to that city. The Jimenez-Parral line is not open yet, but it is expected that Gen. Orozco will order the necessary repairs at once and it is hoped that there may be uninterrupted communication between Juarez and Parral by the end of the week.

Collecting All Arms.
A general order was issued Tuesday afternoon that all citizens who have arms, including rifles, shotguns, pistols, etc., bring them in to military headquarters at once and receive pay for them. Weapons of any kind will be in the form of cash or values is not said. Rifles are needed, however, for the men in the state of Coahuila and are expected to bring in any guns they may have lying around their houses or offices.

In Order to Minimize the Danger of accidental discharges of firearms, all soldiers were ordered to keep their rifles and pistols in their quarters and when rifles are carried on parade they must be empty as to cartridges. This order was issued to the soldiers of the garrison at a guard at the Santa Fe street car Monday afternoon with his 30-30 rifle at full cock, causing many of the passengers to contract nervous disorders. The order was issued to go off, possibly killing someone.

Refugees from Juarez.
A telephone message from Yaleta says that a number of refugees have crossed the river at that point and that they are being taken care of by the liberals. The refugees are said to be taking refuge in the ranches on the Mexican side of the river, taking horses, cattle, and other property from the ranches and not always giving value for what they take.

NEUTRALITY LAW VIOLATION CHARGED

Accused of Attempting to Enlist Men For Service With Orozco.

Three arrests on charges of violation of the neutrality laws were made by federal officers here Monday night. The men arrested had been enlisting men to serve as soldiers in the liberal army of Mexico. The men arrested are Luis Diaz de Leon, Jesus Quintana and Mateo Quintana.

The three men are alleged to have been operating in El Paso for over a week, and during this time to have secured about 80 recruits.

It is claimed that the recruiting officers for the rebels offered the men $120 per day while they serve in the army and during the war to provide them with arms, ammunition and clothing; also at the end of the war they are to obtain a tract of land in Mexico for their services for the cause.

The arrests took place at the home of Quintana on East Second street, just below Tornillo street. It is alleged that the three men had been making an attempt to escape from the penitentiary, but they were caught by the police. The charge to be filed against them will be that of conspiracy with intent to commit murder.

Morley's trial probably will occur second on the criminal docket in the April term of court, about April 20. The trial of Albert Prince for the murder of deputy warden Davis on February 11, occurred April 20, the first day. The authorities asserted that Morley if convicted will hang to death, although willing to talk about the break for liberty. He only regretted the death of Roy Hunt, the young farmer who was killed.

TERRY KING
TAKES POISON AND LEAVES
LETTERS TO HIS SISTER AND TO HIS SON.

POOR BUSINESS WAS THE REASON

Terry King, a candy broker, 49 years of age, was found dead in his office in the Two Republics Life building at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning by P. C. Pappas, who conducts a flower stand there and Johnnie Pulliam, the porter of the building. He had taken cyanide of potassium or morphine. Financial difficulties are given as the cause of his act. His sister, Mrs. Addie Blanton, of 1018 North Texas street, saying that she had complained to her that he was not making much money. He had been used to making big money and small profits discouraged him.
He left several letters, one addressed to his sister here, one to Judge James P. Harper, a close friend, and one to his wife, Mary, who was not making much money. He had been used to making big money and small profits discouraged him.
He left several letters, one addressed to his sister here, one to Judge James P. Harper, a close friend, and one to his wife, Mary, who was not making much money. He had been used to making big money and small profits discouraged him.

In Good Spirit.
P. C. Pappas, the flower man, was with the deceased up to 11 o'clock Monday night, having visited a picture show with him. He had found him writing letters and asked him to go to the show, King agreeing to do so. He was apparently in the best of spirits upon his return.

However, he had evidently contemplated taking his life prior to that, for at 6 o'clock he telephoned his sister and told her that he expected to leave Monday night for Fort Worth to visit his wife and children. She asked him to promise that he would come to her house to spend the night if he did not go and he said that he would. Then he told her to send her son, John Robert, to the house to see her. There would be a note for her there.

Letter for Sister.
His letter to his sister was written in ink, but a note which Justice McClintock has, was written in pencil, both being written in a steady hand. This note read: "Kind friends: Please see that this package goes away by express prepaid. This is very cent I have. Also these letters are posted and others delivered."

"Terry King."
"This package is to my darling boy, Terry King Jr."

"Please notify the A. O. U. W. lodge."
Justice E. H. McGee, who was summoned to the office of King, determined that he had ended his own life, but could not ascertain if the body was dead or if he was still alive. The body was removed to a local undertaking establishment and will be sent to Fort Worth for burial.

Terry King Came to El Paso 10 Years Ago.
Terry King came to El Paso 10 years ago from Ft. Worth and engaged in the haberdashery business in the Sheldon hotel. He continued in business until last year, when he was 39 years old. He went to Ft. Worth and remained there until last October, when he again returned to El Paso. He has been here as a candy broker, under the firm name of King and Forsyth. This business he conducted up to the time of his death.

He had been a popular man in El Paso and upon his return to this city declared that no Alamo were ever arrested while they could fight and that none will be. The posse believes that the death of King was a tragedy, as he wished he had followed his advisers.

Letter to Judge Harper.
The letter which King left for Judge Harper read: "I am enclosing receipts for dues paid to the A. O. U. W. lodge. I hope God will forgive me for this act, but I am unable to make any more by dying than by living. My family is in need." He enclosed the receipt for the dues.

It is known that King had tried to borrow money on Monday to pay for a ticket to Fort Worth but he had evidently failed to secure it.

Peter C. Pappas, who found the body of King in his office, said: "When I first saw King, he was sitting in his chair with one leg crossed over the other, his eyes partly opened, and he was looking at me with a fixed stare. He had been there for several hours and I could not say what it contained."

SURVIVOR FACES
HANGMAN'S NOOSE

Morley, of Convict Trio,
To Be Tried on Murder Charge.

Lincoln, Neb., March 19.—Charles Morley, the living member of the trio of convicts who were captured after a three-day hunt, yesterday, and who killed three men in making their attempt to escape from the penitentiary, probably will be given his preliminary hearing the latter part of the week. The charge to be filed against him will be that of conspiracy with intent to commit murder.

Morley's trial probably will occur second on the criminal docket in the April term of court, about April 20. The trial of Albert Prince for the murder of deputy warden Davis on February 11, occurred April 20, the first day. The authorities asserted that Morley if convicted will hang to death, although willing to talk about the break for liberty. He only regretted the death of Roy Hunt, the young farmer who was killed.

CORDONS OF CAVALRY STRETCH INTO THE MOUNTAINS WHERE OUTLAWS HIDE.

POSSES DARE NOT SLEEP IN MOUNTAINS

Hillville, Va., March 19.—Cordons of troops, the most adaptable being cavalry, equipped for a long and systematic siege and search of the mountains of Carroll and adjoining counties, seem today to be the only practicable method by which the Aliens can be captured. Reports from Mount Airy, N. C., received here today, leave no doubt as to whether the outlaws had been surrounded at Squirrel's Spur, as had been reported last night.
Fear Night in Mountains.
Detectives have searched the roads and houses in this vicinity within a radius of 15 miles and have been unable to find any clue of the present hiding place of the fugitives. Without facilities for camping, the posse has not dared to spend a night in the mountains anywhere near the summit of the Blue Ridge, where the Aliens are believed to be hiding.
Illit Still Brought In.
Four members of the posse who accompanied deputy chief of state Fiddle of the revenue service, to Floyd Allen's home to confiscate illit stills and other paraphernalia, returned here today with four stills, four gallons of outflow and also about 50 gallons of moonshine whisky. Great quantities of the illit whisky were poured out on the roadside. Two stills were found at Silda Edwards' house. The paraphernalia is being held here as evidence.

Hillville More Composed.
Hillville has regained its composure, but women are afraid to go out of doors. When the posse began to lengthen men's hands instinctively go back to their hip pockets. There are few men who do not believe the Aliens are hiding in the mountains. They are determined to kill them. They are determined to kill them. They are determined to kill them.

MINERS' BILL IS

Believed in London Settlement of Strike Is In Sight.

London, England, March 19.—Premier Asquith today introduced in the house of commons the coal miners' bill, the intention of which is to establish a fixed minimum wage for underground workers.

The prospect that the coal strike will end within a week is improving. It is learned that the government bill provides for the settlement of this particular strike, and does not touch the law with regard to future strikes. In consideration of the fact that all parties to the issue have been consulted in drafting the bill, it is expected that it will pass the various stages within the time stipulated by the premier, in which case, it is believed, the men may return to work on Monday.

Cannot Agree.
Chicago, Ill., March 19.—Announcement was made from the Illinois Coal Operators' association today that it will be practically impossible for miners and operators in the bituminous coal fields to reach an agreement by April 1, and that a suspension on that date was certain.

Decide to End Strike.
Berlin, Germany, March 19.—The leaders of the miners' union during their session at Bochum today decided to terminate the coal strike in Westphalia, as they consider it futile.

Tokio, Japan, March 19.—Count Hattori, a member of the opposition, today, in the Japanese house of representatives, condemned senator Dillingham's bill amending the immigration laws of the United States as an insufferable insult to Japan.

The Japanese government's willingness to participate in the Panama exposition, he said, was contrary to Japan's honor and interest.

No reply was made from the government side.

In Sight.

London, England, March 19.—Premier Asquith today introduced in the house of commons the coal miners' bill, the intention of which is to establish a fixed minimum wage for underground workers.

The prospect that the coal strike will end within a week is improving. It is learned that the government bill provides for the settlement of this particular strike, and does not touch the law with regard to future strikes. In consideration of the fact that all parties to the issue have been consulted in drafting the bill, it is expected that it will pass the various stages within the time stipulated by the premier, in which case, it is believed, the men may return to work on Monday.

Cannot Agree.
Chicago, Ill., March 19.—Announcement was made from the Illinois Coal Operators' association today that it will be practically impossible for miners and operators in the bituminous coal fields to reach an agreement by April 1, and that a suspension on that date was certain.

Decide to End Strike.
Berlin, Germany, March 19.—The leaders of the miners' union during their session at Bochum today decided to terminate the coal strike in Westphalia, as they consider it futile.
